NEWTON High School has an illustrious history which includes traditions that are cherished, and achievements that serve as ideals to those within its walls.

This group of eight has served the Newton High School faithfully and true for thirty years or more. Their service over the years has been an influence that is wide and strong, touching the lives of hundreds of boys and girls, many of whom are men and women who have attained great heights in many fields of endeavor.

They live in deeds, not years.

FACULTY PLAY

"THE Late Christopher Bean," hit production of Broadway, was chosen for the annual faculty play presented November 1 and 2, 1935, in the Newton High School auditorium.

This is the very human story of an artist, Christopher Bean, who became famous after death. Helen E. Nute was superb as the hired girl, Abbey, who had loved Chris Bean as his secret wife and thereafter cherished him, in spite of the machinations of many people. Abbey's employers, the Haggett family, are most interesting, especially when they try to commercialize on Chris's fame. With the exception of the younger daughter, Susan, played by Katherine Curtis, all turn against her, not maliciously, but very humanly putting money ahead of friendship. Susan marries a talented but poor artist, played by Charles Considine. Eleanor B. Richmond was properly despicable as the sour older sister, while Edward N. Griffin and Helen L. White were excellent as Doctor and Mrs. Haggett. Walter M. Taylor was the villain who sought to obtain the valuable pictures in a most perfidious way, and T. Jerome Cutting portrayed Rosen, the shrewd art dealer, most realistically. Charles W. Peterson was distinguished as Davenport, a critic.

The faculty plays can always be depended upon for excellence of production and acting that is the finished result of patient work. This, no doubt, explains why such productions as "Sherlock Holmes," "The Three Musketeers," "Treasure Island," and others have met with gratifying success.

SENIOR EXECUTIVE COUNCIL

HISTORY OF THE SENIOR CLASS

WITH sincere regret we of the class of nineteen thirty-six conclude these three short years at Newton High School, years rich in happy associations and splendid achievement. We are justly proud of our past, for it has been a most outstanding one.

Our entrance in nineteen thirty-three was accompanied by the usual confusion, embarrassment, and wonder. However, we did not remain long in this dazed state. Prominent names and faces began to arise from the struggling mass, and some of these we elected to guide us. Roy Merchant was chosen president; William Diman, vice-president; Clara Schwab, secretary; and Barbara Emig, treasurer.

At our first class dance we were given a fine opportunity for making new acquaintances and renewing old friendships. It was a great affair. Late in January came our annual Prize-Speaking Contest, in which Helen Eyre and William Abrahams were declared the victors. The Neophyte play, starring Albert Thomas, concluded the year's social activities.

Spring found us looking forward with mingled gloom and joy, fearful of approaching "exams" but eager to become Juniors. Junior elections were held with the following results: Norman Whitney, president; William Daniels, vice-president; Clara Schwab, secretary; and Barbara Emig, treasurer.

In this second year we accepted our heavier programs with philosophic cheerfulness and began at once to take a prominent part in school affairs.

For the first time since its founding, The Newtonite had as its editor-in-chief, a Junior, John Tomb. Much of the paper's staff also was composed of Juniors.

Another of our classmates, George Kenngott, played the title role in the annual Drama Club production, "Monsieur Beaucaire." Other Juniors were among the capable cast.

On the field and in the gym we were equally outstanding. In the realm of masculine sports the Junior Class was most creditably represented, and our feminine contingent walked off with the Girls' Gym Meet.

Another Junior triumph was recorded in the outcome of the English Club's poetry contest. "This Wondrous World," Eleanor Ainslie's poem on the beauties of nature, was awarded first place.

The Feminine Follies, our social event par excellence, was enjoyed by members of all classes and its financial outcome proved most gratifying.

This last year has undoubtedly been the best. Our class officers were Roy Merchant, president; William Diman, first vice-president; Peter Donavan, second vice-president; Clara Schwab, secretary; and Norma Skelton, treasurer. Norman Whitney was elected president of the Newton High School Associates; Peter Donavan, clerk; and Chester Newey, treasurer.

"Trelawney of the Wells," our Senior play, was presented in January with Maybeth Gibson, Marvin Perry, and George Kenngott in the leading roles. Thanks to the capable coaching of Miss Haworth and wholehearted effort of the entire cast, it proved a finished and delightful production.

Our athletic teams this year made creditable showings in practically every department. Good sportsmanship and co-operative teamwork were always in evidence among the boys and girls alike. Unquestionably, credit for the season's premier performance must go to the boys' track team. Under the able tutelage of Coach Don Enoch and the brilliant leadership of Co-captains Wittens and Huling, the squad won every major meet and, in consequence, the State Championship. With such a record it is no wonder that ours is regarded as the outstanding school-boy track team of New England.

In literary fields our efforts were widespread and results extremely satisfactory. The Newtonite, with John Tomb as editor, again enjoyed a successful year and rendered great service in recording and announcing school events.

The annual English Club Prize-Speaking Contest and accompanying play were well done and proved most enjoyable. Louette Glaser and Robert Nolan, a junior, emerged victorious in the former, while Betty Tobey and Marvin Perry shared honors in the latter.

In early March, the Drama Club, under the guidance of Miss Wetherbee, presented that engaging comedy, "Merton of the Movies." George Jamison, as Merton, created a truly appealing character, remarkable in simple humor and pathetic sincerity. Clare Holman was an excellent lead.

Senior Night, a most successful innovation this year, was the last of our dramatic triumphs, and the social season was most fittingly closed by the long-awaited Senior Prom.

Our chapter of the National Honor Society has done splendid work throughout the entire three years. However, the aims and ideals of this organization have been particularly close to us in the last two years, when a distinguished few of our classmates have composed its membership.

No record of our achievements as a class can be complete without some expression of gratitude to our teachers, advisers, and principal. Aside from actual scholastic training, their guidance and helpfulness outside the classroom have been of inestimable value to us all. We shall not soon forget it.

In these past three years the Class of Nineteen Thirty-six has indeed made history. May we continue to do so in the years to come.

HISTORY OF THE JUNIOR CLASS

HOW proud we Juniors feel as we look back on an eventful, enjoyable year. Our entrance into Newton High School as Sophomores was an event in itself. The maze of corridors, many new faces, and the confusion made the first days terrifying.

Dismay gradually melted before confidence and organization. January thirtieth of the new year found us at the polls in the basement of Building 1, electing class officers. The results were Richard Whitney, president; Geraldine Wisbach, vice-president; Marcelia Rennard, secretary; and Chester Newey, treasurer. At the next class meeting the new leaders were introduced to us by Mr. Elicker. This was followed by our first important social function, the Sophomore Dance, which was entirely successful.

Talent in our midst soon became apparent. The annual event of the Sophomore Prize-Speaking Contest was won by Natalie Salter and Richard Lovell.

In the spring we held the elections for the officers for our Junior year with the following results: Robert Bishop, president; Marcelia Rennard, vice-president; Janet Merrill, secretary; and Barclay Feather, treasurer. Our executive committee, elected at the same time, was composed of Anne Hitchcock, Catherine Pratt, Constance Williams, Francis Donovan, and Joseph Lockett.

In the fall of 1935 we entered school with a clearer mind and steadier purpose than we had the preceding year. In all phases of school life we have featured prominently. Looking back at the athletic programs, we find many of our class among the year's outstanding players. The Newtonite staff included numerous Junior classmen. In the various clubs we have taken an active part. Two important members of the cast of the Drama Club production, "Merton of the Movies," were juniors. Our annual dance, the Feminine Follies, was managed efficiently, and was successful financially.

Toward the latter part of the school year, rings and pins were sold to those who wished to buy them. The right to wear official school insignia is a noteworthy privilege of the junior class.

The sophomore year acquainted us with the school; the junior year has made us feel a part of it. Let us hope that the senior year will bring creditable graduation and the successful completion of our high school career.

JUNIOR

HOME ROOM MANAGERS AND LEGISLATURE REPRESENTATIVES

THE home room managers are selected for each room by popular vote of its members. The office, which is a distinct honor, is one that requires considerable time and labor. The innovation two years ago of the Student Activity Ticket System has somewhat lightened the work of the home room manager, but his duties are still varied and numerous. The sale of tickets to school functions, care of subscription and distribution, and announcements of coming school activities compose the bulk of these duties.

Junior representation in the school student government body, the Newton High School Associates, consists of one representative from every junior home room. These officers are elected by the members of each home room; it is their duty not only to report the procedure and actions of the school Legislature to the students whom they represent, but also to introduce into the Legislature the suggestions and petitions of their respective home rooms. It is an honor and a privilege to be elected to the school Legislature, and the many responsibilities of this coveted office have been faithfully performed during the past year by its incumbents.

SOPHOMORE

HOME ROOM MANAGERS AND LEGISLATURE REPRESENTATIVES

EACH Sophomore home room has its business manager. It is his duty to control the sale of tickets for dramatic and social events, look after the distribution of The Newtonite, and see that the members of his room receive the announcements and opportunities for participation in extra-curricular school affairs.

In the Newton High School Legislature the Sophomores are represented by one member from every two adjacent sophomore home rooms. These representatives render a double service: through their monthly reports the sophomores are kept in touch with the latest developments of school legislative affairs; in addition, the wishes and opinions of the sophomore class are made known to the school through their representatives in the Legislature.

Home room managers and Legislature representatives are selected by popular home room vote, and both are positions of privilege and responsibility.

THE NEWTONIAN

Editor-in-Chief, HARVEY CIBEL

Faculty Adviser, STERLING L. WILLIAMS

YOU have now before you the twenty-seventh issue of The Newtonian. In presenting this volume the staff, in order to demonstrate its appreciation of the appeal of variety and change, has expended an immense amount of planning to make this issue unusually different in many ways from its predecessors.

Competent students, under the helpful supervision of Mr. Williams, sifted, graded, and experimented with exciting new ideas for your Newtonian. The more extensive use of photographs; the introduction of the striking green borders; the fundamental division of the book into four leading sections are results of this planning.

More space has been devoted to the other classes, the book representing not merely the seniors. Advertising campaigns, including an assembly, have been carried on for The Newtonian.

This volume should now be a constant reminder, in its completed state, of the events of the school year, 1935-1936. Three cheers for this issue of our annual, a pioneer in the interests of a progressive and stimulating future.

Editor-in-Chief, JOHN O. TOMB
Faculty Advisers, LESTER WILLIAMS, CARL BIRMINGHAM, FLORA SMITH

THE weekly newspaper of Newton High, The Newtonite, passed its fourteenth season successfully, printing twenty-four issues. The success of the paper was due largely to the great number of veteran seniors and juniors, and the good work of the sophomores.

Whilst there were no particular changes on the news and sports pages, which were of excellent calibre, the feature page had many innovations. "Nuces Vobis," written by Auntie Lamp Post, supplied the humor for the page; "Newtonite News," telling of the goings on of the pupils of Newton High outside of school, was again installed; the movie critics column was supplemented by "Stage Door," which gave short notes of movies and movie stars. The English Club submitted a review of an outstanding book each month. The third page alternated in each issue, having first the literary page and then the supplement page. The literary page was greatly improved this year and brought forth some excellent talent in prose and poetry. The supplement page ranged from "And Sudden Death" to "Soap Box Derbies" and others.

THE 1935-1936 ORANGE BOOK

Editor-in-Chief, ROBERT ROBBINS

Business Manager, JOHN HAGEMAN

Faculty Advisers, CAROLINE M. DOONAN, KATHERINE CURTIS

UNDER the competent supervision of Misses Caroline M. Doonan and Katherine Curtis, "The 1935-1936 Orange Book" was compiled and sold. The book contained information more interesting than ever. The seven hundred students, mostly sophomores, who invested a quarter in this invaluable aid found an immense store of facts and figures, a tabulation of important rules and regulations, the school constitution, and a directory of teachers.

The student editor-in-chief of the publication was Robert Morrill Robbins. To aid in the painstaking work, he had a staff of fourteen, many with previous literary experience. The business manager was John A. Hageman, who was assisted by Anson C. Piper. To make diligent investigations of news-worthy facts about organizations and activities, there were Margaret A. Clark, Natalie M. Grow, and Edward F. Hennessey; about sports, Louette Glaser, Helen Eyre, Josephine Ryan, William A. Diman, Lloyd R. Walker, and Andrew M. Wales. Credit for putting the material in legible form goes to typists Lena M. Collala and Dorothy J. Frazier. Winner of the annual contest to determine the Art editor was Charles Judge, whose design adorned the cover of the book.

"The Orange Book" is much the same from year to year, but with a somewhat different arrangement and new write-ups of all the clubs, activities, and sports, the manual had an original appearance. Much to the credit of Miss Doonan, the book was practically errorless.

This year's energetic staff hopes that the next group will strive to improve the book tenfold.

THE EXECUTIVE COUNCIL

THE Executive Council, composed of faculty supervisors and of student representatives from the Administrative Boards of the Newton High School Associates, has power to initiate and approve all legislation, direct the work and formulate the policies of the administrative boards, grant charters, levy taxes, make appropriations, and pass emergency legislation. The Council is responsible for general control over student activities. The members for the year 1935-36 are:

Miss Bigelow
Miss Burdon
Mr. Elicker
Mr. Green
Mr. Kidger
Mrs. Kuntz
Mr. Maxim
William Squier

Eleanor Ainslie

Peter Donovan
Fred Fairfield
Elizabeth May
Charles Parkin

Mr. Mergendahl
Miss Riley
Miss South
Mr. Thurber
Miss Hazel White
Mr. F. E. Wilson
Norman Whitney

THE LEGISLATURE

THE Newton High School Legislature is the student co-operative governing body. It proposes and passes laws (subject to the approval of the Executive Council and the Principal) for the general good of the school. Administrative boards are appointed to "transact such business as may be regularly connected with their respective activities, subject to the direction of the executive council." The Board of Finance supervises the general fund from which legislative and administrative expenses are taken. The Publication Board directs the work of The Newtonite, The Newtonian, and the Orange Book. The Civic Affairs Board oversees the work of the traffic squad, lunchroom officials, and other matters of civic interest. There are also boards for Athletics, Dramatics, Music, and Social Affairs.

The Legislature is composed of representatives, two elected from each senior home room, one from each junior home room, and one from every two sophomore home rooms.

During this year the Legislature accepted the charters of the Tusitala Club, the Nature Club, and the Varsity Club. It has also made tennis and golf major sports and has discussed the present varsity letter awards, as well as the proposition of allowing a person to hold but one athletic captaincy.

In the Legislature the students can express themselves on any problems of their school life. Mr. Kidger acts as the parliamentarian, explaining questions of correct procedure as well as providing information about past school customs and methods.

THE ASSOCIATES

President, NORMAN WHITNEY

Boys' Vice-President, ERNEST SAVIGNANO

Treasurer, CHESTER NEWBY

Girls' Vice-President, CLARA SCHWAB

Clerk, PETER DONAVAN

AS a result of the Constitutional Convention held in the Fall of 1924, the Newton High School Associates was organized. All members of the school are members of this organization and are represented by the Executive Council and those elected to the Legislature. The first election of officers under the new Constitution was held in February, 1925. These officers, at the head of the Legislature of the Newton High School, are considered to have the highest honor the school can offer.

The president presides at all the meetings of the Legislature, at special assemblies, and is member ex-officio on all Legislature Committees. The boys' vice-president presides at the boys' assemblies and, in the absence of the president, at meetings of the Legislature. The girls' vice-president presides if these two are absent, and at all girls' assemblies. The clerk keeps the rolls of the Legislature and the minutes of its meetings. The treasurer assists the school bursar, Miss Hazel White, and reports to the Legislature the condition of the exchequer.

The members of the Associates bring matters for consideration to the attention of their legislative representatives. The power of the initiative resides in the members of the Associates.

The Christmas Box Campaign, which did much for many needy families, was under the supervision of the Associates, acting through the Civics Affairs Board of the Legislature.

THE NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

President, NORMAN WHITNEY
Vice-President, CORNELIA BROWN

Secretary, WILLIAM DIMAN
Treasurer, ROY MERCHANT

Faculty Adviser, MISS RIDEOUT

THE National Honor Society of Newton is a chapter of a nation-wide organization. Membership is granted to students who show outstanding qualities in scholarship, service, leadership, and character.

Scholarship is interpreted as distinguished achievement in all school subjects, high mental ability, serious application, and, in addition, membership in the upper twenty-five per cent of the junior and senior classes in the Senior High School.

Service is willingness to contribute and to aid cheerfully and unselfishly, either individually or as a member of a group, in promoting the high standards and finest achievements of the school, together with a readiness to serve the class or the school at all times.

Leadership is the demonstration of initiative, poise, and intelligent activity in classroom and in school organization, successfully holding student positions of responsibility, exercising a sympathetic understanding of conditions, and commanding the respect and admiration of the student body.

Character is defined as a continuous manifestation of the fundamental qualities necessary to the finest young manhood and womanhood, particularly promptness, honesty, co-operation, reliability, sincerity of purpose, courtesy, respect, reverence, and morality.

The members of the society render service to the school whenever called upon. They assisted as guides on parents' night and as helpers in the offices and in the lunchroom.

Juniors of the previous year form the nucleus until the annual initiation in April, when fifteen per cent of the senior class and five percent of the junior class become members.

THE ORANGE SHIELD

UNDER the name of The Orange Shield, a group was formed by the Civics Board of 1935-1936. Its membership is selected yearly by that board from the most prominent pupils who participate extensively in the various school activities. It is hoped that membership will come to be considered the highest honor obtainable in the school. The object of this organization is to cherish, preserve, and further the tradition of the school for honesty and fair dealing.

The members (25 from each class) are as follows:

Sophomores	Juniors	Seniors
William Johnston	Robert Bishop	Roy Merchant
Paul Robey	Janet Merrill	William Diman
Beverly Booth	Marcelia Rennard	Peter Donovan
Donald Bail	Barclay Feather	Clara Schwab
John Arend	Chester Newey	Norma Skelton

THE POST-GRADUATE CLASS

GRADUALLY, as the school year got under way, the ranks of post-graduates were increased to almost fifty members. After reaching this crest, the tide began to ebb, as some found suitable positions or chose some course other than that of a post-graduate career. In time, the class dwindled to thirty-five members, all but five of whom had attended Newton High School. For the most part, they are a studious, hardworking group of boys and girls who are acquiring extra units necessary for college entrance. They are indeed a privileged class, and although few extra-curricular activities are open to them, they have been willing participants in the Band, Orchestra, and Glee Club. The reason for this limitation is of course that college and study are the compelling objectives of the class; and, having already had three or four years of high school membership, this extra year is focussed on the work and training that will best enable them to enter the college of their choice. There are, however, many general opportunities for the class to participate in school affairs. Several times throughout the year they have been invited to the assemblies and are hearty supporters of all school events, such as plays, contests, and sports.

No mention of the class would be complete without a word about Miss Leathers, faculty adviser. Her hearty co-operation, wise, thoughtful advice, and constant willingness have been guiding forces behind each throng of post-graduates.

THE SENIOR PLAY

"TRELAWNEY OF THE WELLS," the eleventh Senior Play of the united Newton High School, was presented by the Seniors of the Class of 1936, with the usual dramatic finesse associated with our productions.

The Wells, a small theatre on the outskirts of London, had a gay, young, beautiful leading lady, Rose Trelawney. She has captured the heart of Arthur Gower, a West End swell, and finally they become engaged. Rose is to live on probation with Arthur's grandfather and great aunt. She leaves her friends at Mrs. Mossop's boarding house and enters upon a trying life with the Gowers. At last she returns to her colleagues and a silent lover, Tom Wrench. Rose and Arthur are eventually reconciled in a happy ending.

Maybeth Gibson, as Rose, was the young actress as Pinero created her. Sir Arthur Gower, as portrayed by George Kenngott, stole the show. Blair Scanlon and Marvin Perry were Arthur Gower and Tom Wrench respectively. Helen Eyre as Aunt Trafalgar fluttered through the play. The remainder of the twenty-one roles were taken by Jane Perry, Robert Nichols, Harriet Eames, Gordon Wentworth, Anson Piper, Louette Glaser, Cornelia Brown, John Hageman, Carl Tucker, Virginia Rogers, Samuel Wyatt, Daniel Haughey, William Wise, and Mortimer Lenk. The committee in charge of production was made up of Margaret Clark, William Abrahams, Cornelia Brown, Eleanor Bixby, George Jamison, Frederick Fairfield, Joel Covington, Natalie Grow, and Elizabeth Tobey.

THE ENGLISH CLUB PLAY

ON March 27, the English Club presented, in conjunction with the Junior-Senior Prize-Speaking Contest, a one-act comedy, "Rich Man — Poor Man." The leading parts were taken by Betty Tobey and Marvin Perry, while the supporting cast included other members of the senior class: Margaret Clark, Eleanor Bixby, Fred Jackson, Barbara Hansen, James Whitehead, Nancy Waddell, Bernice Elkind, together with Eldora Kirton, Helen Spence, and Jane Dealy of the Junior Class.

The setting for the play was a thrift shop, the pet charity of a young socialite. Among her admirers was the once wealthy and faithful Peter, whose nine offers of marriage had been refused. She finally promised to marry him, provided no one left her shop empty-handed. A hilarious situation arose when Peter, having hidden behind a screen upon the arrival of potential customers, was compelled to remove most of his clothing to supply the needs of the poor people and thus to win Emma.

Betty Tobey's skill in interpreting her part, which she assumed only a day before the play, deserves special commendation. Jane Dealy also did remarkably well in the role of the Scotch woman, which had been Betty Tobey's first assignment.

A splendid cast aided Miss Wetherbee and Natalie Grow, the coaches, in making the play a success. Credit is also due Ruth Gould, general chairman of the evening, and John Pettibone, Sally Roe, Helen Bradshaw, Betty Minchin, Fred Fairfield, Marvin Perry, and Tom Scott for their help in producing the play.

THE DRAMA CLUB PLAY

ALL the hopes and ambitions of the twelfth successive year of the Drama Club were crowned by the successful presentation of "Merton of the Movies," a satire by Kaufman and Connelly. It was well received, on the afternoon of March 13, and the evening of March 14, by enthusiastic audiences which gratifyingly expressed their pleasure.

The theme of this play is the desire of Merton Gill to become a motion picture actor in Hollywood. George Jamison played this part with almost professional skill and completely held the interest of the audience throughout the entire performance. Merton, from his position in a small town grocery store, becomes enamored with Beulah Baxter, a melodramatic, temperamental actress, well portrayed by Charlotte Appelt. As soon as he has earned enough money he sets out for the center of the movie industry, where he meets the proverbial, heroine, Clare Holman, as the modern, sophisticated Miss Montague. The supporting roles were played by George Kenngott as Mr. Gashwiler; Robert Nolan as the dignified Mr. Montague; Gordon Wentworth as the bored Mr. Parmalee; Ruth Filbin as Tessie; Stuart Stern as Sigmond Rosenblatt; Fred Fairfield, Janet Hickey, and Fred Begole.

Without Miss Louise Wetherbee's excellent coaching, the play surely would not have been such a success. The Drama Club Workshop is to be commended for producing such appropriate settings, costumes, and properties. Mr. Charles Peterson's group of stage hands cleverly devised backgrounds which fully merit praise.

JUNIOR-SENIOR PRIZE-SPEAKING CONTEST

Louette Glaser, '36, and Robert Nolan, '37, were the winners in the annual English Club Junior-Senior Prize-Speaking Contest held on March 29. The other participants were Cornelia Brown, Elizabeth Ferguson, Janice Pouzner, William Abrahams, Joseph Lockett, and Leon Lipson.

FRESHMAN-SOPHOMORE PRIZE-SPEAKING CONTEST

Sponsored by Alpha Beta, the annual Freshman-Sophomore Prize-Speaking and Essay Contest was held in January, 1936. Jerry Harvey and Lee Pattison were chosen as first and second winners respectively. Marcia Jackson, Nancy Flagg, Susanne Cook, Donald Emig, Peter Geisler, and Michael Golden were the other participants.

THE ENGLISH CLUB

President, FREDERIC FAIRFIELD
Vice-President, RUTH GOULD

Secretary, ELIZABETH TOBEY
Treasurer, WILLIAM ABRAHAMS

Faculty Adviser, E. LOUISE RICHARDSON

THE English Club, the first club in the school, affords an unlimited number of juniors and seniors an opportunity to broaden their knowledge in many phases of English.

Among the speakers at the regular meeting were Mr. Dwight Shepler, Dr. Wynn Fairfield, Miss Faith Hale, Rev. Herbert Hitchen, Mr. Edward Whiting, and Mrs. Robert List. To stimulate interest in recent literature, two new features were added: monthly book reviews given by one of the club members, William Abrahams, and the reading of poems appropriate to each meeting which were selected by Cornelia Brown. At a senior assembly, the club presented Dr. Fred Winslow Adams who spoke on Mark Twain. These programs were all arranged by Eleanor Bixby's committee.

The club sponsored the annual prize-speaking contest. The winners were Louette Glaser, '36, and Robert Nolan, '37. The evening was concluded with a one-act play, "Rich Man, Poor Man," directed by Natalie Grow. The cast included Betty Tobey, Eldora Kirton, Marvin Perry, Margaret Clark, Eleanor Bixby, Helen Spence, Frederick Jackson, Barbara Hansen, James Whitehead, Jane Dealy, and Bernice Elkind.

This year a new method of judging the essay contest was adopted. Ten first prizes were awarded. The winners were: Eleanor Bixby, Polly Brown, Harriet Conel, Elizabeth Gleason, Curtis MacDowell, Evelyn Margolin, Antoinette Meyer, Marvin Perry, Thomas Scott, and Norman Whitney. The poetry contest was won by Louette Glaser, with Muriel Brown taking second place, and William Abrahams and Barbara Drake receiving honorable mention. Books were presented to each of these winners.

A sum of money for books was given to the library.

LE CERCLE FRANÇAIS

President, ALICE DRURY

Vice-President, JOSEPHINE RYAN

Secretary, ELIZABETH MAY

Treasurer, MAURICE REIDY

Faculty Adviser, M. ROBERTA MILLER

LE CERCLE FRANÇAIS, open to students who have had at least one year of French, strives to stimulate interest in France, its people, and its language, and to improve the oral French of the members. To accomplish these aims, worthwhile speakers are obtained, French exhibits are held, short plays are presented, and games are played. These club meetings are usually conducted entirely in this foreign language.

This year the club, with an enrollment of thirty-five members, enjoyed its usual highly beneficial season. At the first meeting Alice Drury was elected President and Josephine Ryan, vice-president. Josephine Ryan gave an informal talk on her experiences at a French camp the previous summer. The November meeting consisted of short plays and poems presented by the club members. In December, Le Cercle Français attended "Why the Chimes Rang," a play given by the Drama Club, to which all the school clubs were invited. The crowning event was an illustrated lecture on Paris, given in English, by Mademoiselle Gremillot. This January lecture, which was open to the school, was warmly received. At the close of the meeting, the audience felt much better informed about the well-known places in Paris, and the desire to visit the capital of France had risen in the minds of all. Songs, dialogues, plays, and games; a talk by Miss Myles; and a French exhibit formed the programs for the remainder of the club gatherings. Also one meeting was jointly held with the Puppeteer Club.

THE GERMAN CLUB

*President, BARBARA EMIG
Vice-President, ALICE PARKER*

*Secretary, RUTH WORCESTER
Treasurer, RICHARD DWYER*

Faculty Adviser, KENNETH G. PACKARD

THE fourth year of the German Club was marked by a successful continuation of the procedure inaugurated in the fall of 1934 to make the club activities of equal interest to advanced and elementary students.

For the first meeting in October we were very happy to have Mr. Green, our assistant principal, as guest speaker. Several years ago Mr. Green spent some time in Germany making an extensive survey of the German educational system. He brought back with him not only some very keen impressions of Germany and her people, but also numerous motion pictures which he took of the more characteristic aspects of German life. Both Mr. Green's impressions and his pictures provided us with an enjoyable opening meeting.

As is customary here in Newton High School, the German Club joined with the other departmental clubs as guests of the Drama Club in December and enjoyed an interesting play.

In January, Professor Waldo C. Peebles of Boston University gave us very generously of his time to acquaint us with the most outstanding elements in Germany's great cultural tradition. Professor Peebles illustrated his talk with numerous slides depicting various phases of German cultural endeavor. We were grateful for this opportunity to be introduced to a new sphere of interest.

Other guests, some of whom were present at our informal get-togethers, helped to round out a well-balanced and successful program. In the spring we had our annual dinner-party and trip to the Fine Arts Theatre. All indications point toward an enthusiastic renewal of activities in the fall.

THE SPANISH CLUB

President, ROBERTA KELLY
Secretary, MARJORIE LIND

Treasurer, ROGER COTTING
Faculty Adviser, SEÑOR FRANCESCO ARGENTO

IN April, 1925, Señora Marion Haslem founded the Spanish Club in order to promote among the Spanish students a keener interest and better understanding of the language which they were studying.

As there are comparatively few pupils taking Spanish, the membership is naturally small, but this does not detract from the club's importance or activities. The meetings are conducted entirely in Spanish, this requiring a great deal of planning and preparation by those who participate in the programs.

During the year many short plays were given to better acquaint the members with the customs of the Spanish speaking people and the colloquialisms of their language.

In December the group was a guest of the Drama Club at the production of the Christmas play, "Why the Chimes Rang."

One meeting, held in the latter part of the school year, was devoted to the entertainment of first year Spanish students who may be members next year. A play was given in Spanish, simple enough so that even those with a very limited vocabulary might understand it. Refreshments were served.

One of the most interesting and entertaining activities of the Club was a trip to Boston, where dinner was eaten in a Spanish restaurant and a theatre was attended.

The Spanish Club has been most successful in carrying out its purposes and aims.

ALPHA GAMMA TAU

President, DOUGLAS SEARS
Vice-President, HARRIET CHURCH

Secretary, JOSEPH F. MILLER
Treasurer, ELLISTON WHITMORE

ALPHA GAMMA TAU, the Newton High School Mathematics Club, is an organization of long standing, being the second club organized in the school. It has two principal aims. First, it teaches us an appreciation of the usefulness of our present branches of mathematics and of the work they represent on the part of the ancient Mathematicians. The second aim is to entertain its members. Both of these issues are well handled by Mr. Dunk, a new addition to the faculty, and supervisor of the club. Most of the work of the club deals with the recreational and amusement aspects of mathematics. Applications of mathematics as related to the sciences are investigated.

Very important to mathematics are two of the topics so far discussed, "Systems of Logic," and "The Fallacy." Miss Evelyn Karol presented the fascinating "Magic Square," and Mr. Dunk, seeing that we enjoyed this ancient game, held a contest, the prize going to the person who could obtain, by legitimate means, all the numbers from zero to twenty-one, using only four fours on each one. It is possible but difficult.

It has been customary for the Mathematics Club to prepare and give a short play, but it will be dispensed with this year, unfortunately. The Alpha Gamma Tau picnic is an event looked forward to by all members. It marks the end of the year as far as the club is concerned, and pleasantly terminates a profitable association.

The club enlists a membership of about fifty students.

THE SOCIAL STUDIES CLUB

*President, EDWARD WALKER
Vice-President, ANSON PIPER*

*Secretary, DOROTHY PADDON
Treasurer, PAUL MCGRATH*

THE Social Studies Club plays an important part in supplementing the classwork of Juniors and Seniors who take Social Studies. As this is the second largest club in the school, membership is limited to four pupils from each Social Studies section. The group was first organized in 1926 through the efforts of Mr. Koughan. Service to the club members and to the school is the chief aim. Thus its policy has been to keep the dues low; moreover, for several years it has offered prizes to students who have the best knowledge of government. One of the most important projects is that of giving books to the library.

Speakers of prominence in the fields of government, economics, and history have addressed the group. This year the club has been fortunate to have Dr. Frank Nowak of Boston University to speak on Russia as he saw it during a recent trip. Ex-Congressman Luce of Waltham presented an interesting account of the working of our National Legislature.

Motion pictures of historical, civic, and economic interest have been shown, among which were the "Story of General Custer and the Indian Massacre at Little Big Horn" and "The Life of George Washington." A discussion of presidential possibilities for 1936 was accompanied by slides showing several candidates in action.

ALPHA BETA

President, JAMES DEALY
Vice-President, CAROLINE PERRY

Secretary, NANCY FLAGG
Treasurer, DONALD BAIL

Faculty Adviser, FRANCES THUMIM

FROM the very beginning of its existence Alpha Beta, the Freshman-Sophomore English Club which was founded in 1921 by Samuel P. Thurber, has been one of the most popular organizations in Newton High School. Originally it included, as the name implies, A (Greek Alpha) and B (Beta) pupils only, but in more recent years requirements for membership have been simply a passing grade in all subjects and an enthusiastic interest in the activities of the club.

One of Alpha Beta's most important annual projects is the sponsorship of the Freshman-Sophomore Prize-Speaking Contest. In former years this has consisted of recitations of memorized selections by four boys and four girls who have competed in the preliminary try-outs. In 1936, however, pupils read their own original compositions, and these were judged for intelligent rendition and literary merit. Instead of handling the boy and girl contestants as two separate units with a first and second prize given in each group, no discrimination was made among the nine competitors, and only one first prize was presented. The two best speakers were given awards by Alpha Beta at its March meeting.

Under the intelligent leadership of Miss Frances Thumim, the club has enjoyed several interesting programs during the season. At the first organized meeting of the year, Mr. Green of the faculty gave an amusing travel talk illustrated with his own motion pictures. Later the club heard Mr. Floyd B. Rinker, of the Newton High School English Department, entertainingly describe his recent experiences as an exchange teacher in England. Twice during the season, Alpha Beta and the Neophytes, the two major sophomore organizations, have met together. At the first of these joint meetings, the Dramatic Club was host; while in the second, Alpha Beta presented Mr. Cronin of the Newton Public Library, who reviewed current books in his usual charming style.

THE TUSITALA CLUB

President, CURTIS MCDOWELL
Vice-President, ROBERT ROBBINS

Secretary-Treasurer, NELLIE FREDERICK
Adviser, MISS HELEN NUTE

THE Tusitala Club was organized this year to encourage creative writing. The charter members conducted a contest for admission, and ten additional juniors and seniors were chosen on the merit of their manuscripts. In February a few sophomores were likewise selected, bringing the total number to twenty-five, the limit specified.

Instead of the usual custom of most clubs of hearing speakers at meetings, the club read and discussed various contributions of the members. Among the types of work submitted were poems, plays, essays, short stories, and book reviews. Attempts have been made to imitate the style of authors and magazines: for example, The New Yorker. The meetings were found to be even more enlightening than English classes. In fact, they have been so successful that a collection of contributions entitled The Inkling has been edited. Single works have also been published in The Newtonite. An assembly was considered, but, because of the club's full program, the suggestion has been deferred to another year. An outdoor meeting was also proposed.

The club has, as one of its projects, the formation of a library dealing with the development of original writing. Books have already been purchased to further this plan. An additional activity was the presentation of a short skit on Senior Night.

Next year's club will consist of those of the present members who are not graduated in June, 1936. This group will select new members from those who submit compositions in the autumn entrance contest.

THE BOYS' DEBATING CLUB

President, MARVIN PERRY

Vice-President, RICHARD PALMER

Secretary-Treasurer, LESLIE WHITE

THE Boys' Debating Club, now in its fifth year of existence, is becoming more active annually and has, at present, a very full schedule. The first part of the school year has been made use of in preparing debates that could be used for our inter-club meetings. We have endeavored to keep our discussions as timely as possible as may be seen in our choice of subjects, for example: "Resolved, That the Teacher's Oath Bill Be Repealed," "Resolved, That the Power of the Supreme Court To Declare Acts of Congress Unconstitutional Be Abolished," and "Resolved, That the Federal Government Should Enact Legislation Providing for a System of Complete Medical Service To All at Public Expense."

It is necessary to speak also of the club's activities other than those which occur at the regular monthly meetings. The club acted as a host to two members of the Colgate debating team, who discussed the question of the Supreme Court from both points of view. The members were greatly pleased to hear this subject debated, since it had already been under consideration in the club. Inter-club debates were also held with the representatives of the Malden High School Literary Society, the Debating Society of the Norwood Senior High School, the Brookline High School Debating Club, and the Webster Debating Society of Somerville. From this brief report one may easily see that soon the club will be making a real name for itself in the annals of the school.

THE DRAMA CLUB

President, GEORGE KENNGOTT
Vice-President, VIRGINIA ROGERS

Secretary, RAYMONDE HARVEY
Treasurer, JOHN KOUGHAN

Faculty Adviser, LOUISE WETHERBEE

AT the October Executive committee meeting, made up of the officers, faculty adviser, and Elizabeth Tobey and Fred Fairfield as executive committee members, George Jamison was appointed chairman of the program committee, Evelyn Margolin of the publicity committee, and John Koughan of the financial committee.

The all-club Christmas meeting, under the auspices of the Drama Club, was entertained with the well-known "Why the Chimes Rang," coached by Sally Roe. The new Hamilton electric organ and the Newton High School Chorus played an important part in this assembly. At the November gathering, Curtis Beach, a graduate of Newton High School in 1931, gave a Marionette show. In January, Mr. Capron of Newton Centre gave a lecture on the history of stage lighting. At the February meeting Marvin Perry presented James M. Barrie's "The Old Lady Shows Her Medals," and in April a one-act play by Ralph Bixby, '33, was presented. At the beginning of the year a new feature was added to the regular meetings; this was a critic's report, with comments on the current films and plays, given by William Abrahams, The Newtonite dramatic critic.

With a clever Koufman and Connolly satire on Hollywood, "Merton of the Movies," starring George Jamison and Clare Holman, the Drama Club brought to a close its eleventh successful season. The club has been under the direction of Louise Wetherbee since 1925.

THE NEOPHYTES

President, JULIETTE HARVEY

Vice-President, ANNE REYNOLDS

Secretary, VIRGINIA BROWN

Treasurer, SANCHIA THAYER

Faculty Adviser, JESSIE A. SOUTHARD

IN 1928, the Sophomore Drama Club, the Neophytes, was started on its way to the success it has now achieved by Mrs. Blanche Bemis.

During the year 1936, "The Man in the Bowler Hat" was presented, starring Paul Buhling as John, Virginia Wilson as Mary; Ann Reynolds, the heroine; Ellis Dierdorff, the villain; and Thomas O'Toole, the bad man in the bowler hat. At one meeting the club entertained Alpha Beta and had the actress, Miss Adele Neff as speaker. She gave her own interpretations of modern American living. The Neophytes were entertained at the annual Christmas play and at a puppet show both of which were by the Drama Club. The English Club invited the Neophytes to a meeting at which Mr. Edward Whiting, a noted author, spoke on the different methods of writing. At a later meeting, "The Noble Lord," a short play, was presented. Jerry Harvey took the part of "He," and Nancy Howatt was "She," and Helen Rabinovitz was Peter. Each year in May, the Neophytes give a play in the assembly hall for its classmates.

The club includes a stage committee which gives primary experience in stage management.

One of the former groups left to the club a make-up box that affords training in this art. As a gift from the 1936 members, two stage settings were given for the plays presented each month in the club room.

The purpose of the Neophytes is to organize those sophomores who are interested in dramatics and to provide opportunities in this field.

THE STAGE COMMITTEE

It is the stage committee which is responsible for the changing of scenery, and for much of the scenic construction used in the plays presented by school organizations.

Many of the students of the school know very little about the stage committee and its work. The committee is chosen by the faculty adviser, Mr. Peterson, at the beginning of the school year, on the basis of the ability shown by pupils desiring to be members. This year a precedent was broken, when more than one junior was admitted to the crew. Previously there had been only one, but the lack of seniors desiring to be members, and the ability shown by several juniors were sufficient reasons for the change.

This fall, the crew got off to a slow start, because the faculty play, "The Late Christopher Bean," had but one set, and the only work that had to be done was executed by a few members. The senior play, "Trelawney of the Wells," which had three changes of scenery was, however, a task which required the co-operation of the whole crew. The real test came in the Drama Club Play "Merton of the Movies." There were six scenes required, among which were a boat and a country store, but, as always, the stage committee came through with a sparkling performance. Many thanks are due not only to the crew, and Mr. Peterson, but also to Mr. Green, whose assistance was very material to the fine work rendered.

THE VARSITY GLEE CLUB

THE Varsity Glee Club, organized six years ago by its director, Charles B. Harrington, has grown to a membership of about seventy. It is composed of a selected group of boys and girls who, possessing ability in singing, desire this added opportunity for further practice and study.

That the Glee Club attains its objectives is proved not only by the high quality of its public performances but also by the fact that, with rare exceptions, students who join continue their membership year after year until they graduate.

Weekly rehearsals are held in the Music Hall, and credit is given toward graduation. Work is confined largely to the study of compositions by famous composers, including a variety of selections which possess charm, beauty, and distinction.

The Glee Club appears each year before the school in an assembly and also takes a prominent part in the annual outdoor concert in June. It has received much praise for excellent performances on these occasions. The singing of carols in the corridors of our school buildings at Christmas time has now become traditional.

This year the Glee Club was honored by an invitation from the management of the Newton Community Forum to provide the musical program for one of its meetings. Two numbers were given: "The Chambered Nautilus," the beautiful poem of Oliver Wendell Holmes with music by Harris; and "The Lost Chord" by Sullivan. They were warmly applauded.

Endeavors are being made to plan for the coming year a musical program which will provide more favorable opportunities for rehearsals and more frequent performances.

THE CAMERA CLUB

*President, LEON OBER
Vice-President, KATHERINE O'CONNOR
Secretary, VIRGINIA PIGNATELLI*

*Assistant Secretary, LOUISE DEMAIO
Treasurer, NORMAN ROSS
Faculty Adviser, STERLING WILLIAMS*

THE popular organization called the Camera Club was founded by Edmund Hawes and Stuart Gibson with Mr. Sterling Williams in 1929.

The purpose of the club is to assist students to increase their knowledge and skill in photography. Programs of the year featured: Camera Exhibit, November; Picture Contest Exhibit, December; "How To Develop Your Own Pictures," under the direction of Mr. Chase and Mr. Davis, January; Slides on "Technical Errors of Taking Pictures," under the direction of Mr. Lewis and Mr. Davis, February; Pictures for Feature Section of Newtonian, March; Picture Contest, April.

The winners of the December Picture Contest were Violet Golay, first prize of one dollar; Leon Ober, second prize of seventy-five cents; Joseph Holman and Thomas Parker, third prize, of twenty-five cents each. Winners of the February Picture Contest were Forrest Linscott, first prize of one dollar; Violet Golay and Leon Ober, second prize, of fifty cents each; Lillian Johnston, third prize of twenty-five cents.

Pictures of points of interest in Newton were taken by the members of the club and were contributed to a book which is being written called "The History of Newton." Many of the club members have visited the Cedric Chase Laboratories in Waltham.

A Master Exhibit of Enlargements was held in the Imperial Ballroom in the Hotel Statler on last November first, second, and third. Members who had paid their dues received a free ticket to this exhibit.

The Camera Club has increased greatly within the last few years, its membership now having reached seventy-five.

THE PUPPETEERS

President, STUART R. WHITE
Vice-President, HENRY W. BLOOD

Secretary, J. DAVID CLARE
Treasurer, E. LAWRENCE CHAMBERLAIN
Faculty Adviser, KATE C. S. CORNELL

THE Puppeteers was organized in the spring of 1935 to provide a medium of exchanging and incorporating ideas and talents in puppeting. In this club many opportunities are given to demonstrate ability in the following arts and crafts: dramatics, electricity, carpentry, sewing, scenery painting, and stage construction or management. For greater ease of operation, membership is limited to twenty.

During the last few years the ancient art of puppeting has reappeared before the public as something new, mysterious, and fascinating. Modern lighting and improved methods allow the presentation of plays which are beyond the scope of the legitimate stage. With these views in mind the Puppeteers was formed.

Early in September the club members constructed a collapsible stage, which may be erected by three persons in five or ten minutes. When not in use it may be conveniently stored away in a small amount of space. The stage is equipped with conventional over-head lights with which various color schemes may be obtained.

Several amusing skits have been given by members of the club. In March the organization collaborated with Le Cercle Français and presented two short plays in French. On May seventh the first full-length performance appeared when "Aladdin," as revised by one of the members, was given. This was the first attempt of the club to have a public presentation, and it is hoped that another will be had next year.

Progressing slowly but surely the Puppeteers is establishing a reputation among the other clubs of the school.

THE RADIO CLUB

President, BERNARD ERICSON
Secretary, PEGGY BURKHARD

Treasurer, NORMA N. ROSS
Faculty Advisers, HELEN B. LEE, RICHARD P. BOYER

THE Radio Club was organized in January of the year 1933, by a small group of radio fans, expressly for the purpose of learning the history, theory, and mechanism of the radio and to train to be non-technical operators. Then, in 1934, a few pupils who had previously been members of the Radio Club at the Day Junior High School wished to add a new section for those interested in broadcasting or in the dramatic phase of radio.

These two groups join for one main meeting under the leadership of their respective chairmen.

Last year the Broadcasting Section presented one skit for the Community Chest. Later, through stations WBZ and WEEI, they sponsored eight more broadcasts, one being a coast to coast hook-up.

All arrangements for broadcasts were made entirely by the individual clubs of the schools, but in 1935, Mr. Warren, superintendent of Newton Schools, decided that they were not to be controlled by the clubs, but by a city-wide committee. Every school unit of the city was to have three broadcasts during the year. However, any other broadcasts that the clubs could arrange, they were entitled to. The three Newton High School broadcasts occurred on December 19, March 5, and May 7. The first program was the dramatization of two skits concerning Christmas, one centered on the Hostile Movement, and the other portrayed Christmas in foreign lands. The second one was based on the idea of "Sudden Death."

It is hoped that this club will grow in popularity and membership so that it may have more broadcasts and eventually a studio of its own.

THE HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

*President, MARIE MAZZICHELLI
Vice-President, MARJORIE HARTNETT*

*Secretary, RUTH THIVIERGE
Treasurer, ESTHER CURRIE*

THE Home Economics Club was started as a service group, and is open to not more than forty girls who may be taking any Home Economics subject. This organization, unlike others with a limited field, may include in its program subjects dealing with any phase of home or community interest. The meetings are both educational and social, so that friendliness among the members may increase.

In November Mr. Raymond Green gave a talk on the quaint costumes of various European countries. In January a Home talent program, at which the members entertained friends, was held. On Valentine's Day a party was given to a group of less fortunate children. Games were played and ice cream and favors provided. In March several Home Economics plays were read, and there was a general discussion of club plans. In April Mrs. Cornell exhibited a beautiful collection of linen, china, and glass, and showed ways of bringing color and beauty into table setting. An educational trip to the plant of the Whiting Milk Company concluded the year.

The club recently bought two books of outstanding fiction. These are being circulated among the members and in June will be presented to the School Library. Club members have also served as ushers at school functions and helped with the sale of candy at the Red Cross Flood Relief Concert. In all ways the members try to live up to high ideals as a service club in Newton High School.

THE COMMERCIAL CLUB

President, DOROTHY LANDRY
Vice-President, HELEN HALLORAN
Secretary, MARY JONES

Treasurer, RITA MASSE
Clerk, MARY SHEEHAN
Faculty Adviser, MISS MCGUIRE

THE successful 1935-1936 season of the Commercial Club has proved one which its members will not soon forget. Sixty-four girls reported, and each one lived up to the reputation of the Club by promoting friendship and leadership in learning business principles and developing personality in a pleasant social atmosphere.

The Commercial Club is one of the oldest in the school; it was established in the time when the Technical High and Classical High were separate. Before the schools consolidated, both boys and girls were eligible, but in 1930, it became exclusively a girls' club. Every year the question of having boys eligible is considered, but is always voted down.

The organization was entertained by Mr. Campbell, District Manager of the Newton Centre and Watertown Telephone Exchanges, and a visit was later made to the exchange. The group also took field trips to H. P. Hood and Sons in Charlestown and to the H. P. Hovey Company in Boston, where an inspection of the executive offices and the training school was made. The Club had the privilege of observing Professor Lerner who exhibited a few of the latest steps in ballroom dancing.

The members have enjoyed worthwhile meetings during this year and hope the Club will continue its effective services.

THE NATURE CLUB

*President, ANNE RILEY
Vice-President, JACK PERRY*

*Secretary, THOMAS E. BOWMAN
Treasurer, MILTON HOITT*

THE Nature Club was organized in December, 1936, with Miss H. Anna Kennedy as its able faculty supervisor. The aim of the club is to stimulate interest and increase knowledge in the field of nature study.

At the December meeting, plans were laid for the coming year. At the January meeting, the following officers were elected: president, Anne Riley; vice-president, Jack Perry; secretary, Thomas Bowman; treasurer, Milton Hoitt. The program for this meeting included talks on "Weeds, Rocks," and "The Glass Flowers at Harvard," all given by members of the club.

The February meeting was entirely devoted to geology. Talks were given on this subject by club members, after which Miss Kennedy summed up the outstanding points of the talks.

The March meeting also consisted of talks by club members on various phases of geology. By devoting two whole meetings to geology, the club feels that it has obtained some knowledge of this branch of science.

On Friday, February 28, the club took a trip to the Botanical Museum at Harvard University for the purpose of seeing the Ware Collection of Glass Flowers. This was a great success in every way. On Friday, April 23, the club visited the Harvard Astronomical Observatory and was greatly privileged in being allowed to use the telescope. The members were greatly delighted with this expedition. In the spring, Miss Kennedy showed interested members how to make permanent microscope slides.

The first year of the Nature Club has been a remarkable success, and it is hoped that the following years will be even more so.

THE GIRLS' OUTING CLUB

President, CYNTHIA STEITZ

Vice-President, ANTOINETTE MEYER

Faculty Adviser, ADELE LOYSEN

Secretary, BETTY STEPHEN

Treasurer, ELIZABETH MAY

THE Girls' Outing Club was organized in 1933 under the supervision of Mrs. Warren, a gymnastic teacher. The aim of this club, modeled after the Smith College Outing Club, is to promote, through outdoor activities, the good leadership, sportsmanship, resourcefulness, and health of its members.

The club meets the second Thursday of each month. It is composed of eighteen girls from the senior class and twelve from the junior class. Applicants for the Outing Club fill out questionnaires concerning their participation in athletic activities both inside and outside of school. These applications are rated and the girls who receive the most points become members.

This year the club, with Miss Loysen as faculty adviser, has had many varied activities. Miss Curtis spoke on her experiences at a dude ranch. At another meeting excellent moving pictures on ski technique were shown. This year the club inaugurated a new custom which everyone hopes will be continued. The Waltham field hockey teams were entertained at a tea, after their game with Newton. This proved to be so successful that a similar function was held in honor of the Watertown basketball teams. Here is a splendid way for the girls to get acquainted with their opponents.

It is the custom of the club to have an outing each month. This year the activities have been bowling, a bicycle trip to Weston, a winter sports party at the Commonwealth Country Club, a climb up Mount Monadnock, and as our last outing, a beach party.

THE LIBRARY CLUB

*President, RAYMONDE HARVEY
Vice-President, HARRIET CONEL*

*Secretary, KATHARINE DEMPSEY
Treasurer, SALLY ROE*

Faculty Adviser, GLADYS M. BIGELOW

THE Library Club has rendered valuable service to the school since it was organized in 1923. Fifteen senior and ten junior girls are voted into the club at the end of each year.

The Library Club, though essentially an organization for service, offers great opportunities for learning the fundamentals in library management. Club members assist Miss Bigelow, the librarian, not only at the monthly meetings, but also before and after school. This work includes filing and arranging books, magazines, and catalogues; keeping bulletin board articles up-to-date; checking up on overdue books; and organizing material for scrap books and folders. This year the club has made displays of books and periodical writings in connection with subjects discussed at the current meetings of the Newton Community Forum.

On March 25, a few club members served tea in the library at a meeting sponsored by the Educational Committee of the Newtonville Women's Club, concluding a survey of library and school co-operation.

Each year for the past ten years the club has made a gift to the library. Among these contributions are a set of historical pictures, an illustrated book of historic costume, Roget's "Thesaurus," and other volumes. This year the club is presenting to the library a dozen cellophane picture holders and three books: "The Trade of Writing," "Modern Theatre Practice," and "The Treasury of the Theatre." These gifts were bought with funds from the treasuries of the last two years.

The Library Club is an excellent example of good school spirit, as its members work voluntarily and faithfully in the service of the school.

THE CAVALRY CLUB

*President, LEO NAWN
Vice-President, ROBERT MORRILL*

*Secretary-Treasurer, LLOYD WALKER
Faculty Adviser, MR. WILLARD*

IN the spring of 1935, Mr. Willard called a meeting of all those people who were interested in riding. About fifty boys answered the call. The officers chosen at the first meeting are as follows: Leo Nawn, president; Robert Morrill, vice-president and head of polo; and Lloyd Walker, secretary-treasurer. The officers then drew up a charter and presented it to the Legislature for ratification. Three weeks later the second meeting was called, at which time the new charter was read, and plans made for the coming season, 1935-1936.

The purpose of the club is to give to those people who are interested in riding, but have not sufficient funds, opportunity to ride at a reduced rate that has been obtained at various riding schools in the near vicinity of Newton.

It is the ultimate aim of the club to have a polo team to play the other school teams in and about Boston. All winter there has been a small group of fellows playing under the name of the Newton Freebooters. They cannot carry the name of the Newton High School because the school has refused to recognize the team as a school organization.

We hope to have a regular polo team before the end of next season as there are enough fellows who want one.

THE AVIATION CLUB

*Pilot, HOLLIS WHITTEN
Co-Pilot, DOUGLAS SEARS
Treasurer, CLARENCE BENEDICT*

*Secretary, BARBARA MCCARTHY
Hostess, M. JOSEPHINE RYAN
Adviser, DANIEL P. A. WILLARD*

THE model building group under the direction of Hollis Whitten was the most active division of the Aviation Club this year. Contest rules were established, model flying meets were held, and movies of previous New England meets were shown. "Side-Slips," edited by Edmund Whitten, Jr., was the official publication. The members of this group were Robert Barber, Donald Fulton, Joseph Gallant, Robert Williamson, John Fletcher, James Corcoran, Philip Kyle, John Hemingway, and Louis Young.

Harvey O'Connor, who has several hundred flying hours to his credit was the first member of the student-pilot group to receive his pilot's license.

Lieutenant True G. Miller, United States Coast Guard Pilot, headlined in the newspapers from coast to coast last winter because of his daring rescues of seamen from the angry waters of the Atlantic Ocean, was introduced at the December meeting by Mr. George Mason, New England Governor of the National Aeronautic Association.

Captain Frank Hawks, holder of more than 200 flying records over the world, talked on the current status and problems of aviation at a special assembly of faculty and students on April 1, 1936. He gave vivid descriptions of some of his experiences during his 12,000 hours in the air, in which he covered 1,250,000 miles.

Other speakers at club meetings were Lieutenant Warren Sweetser, Jr., Marine Corps pilot; Mr. John Wheelock of the American Airways; Mr. Arthur Hildreth, meteorologist; Lieutenant Fletcher Ingalls, flight trainer; Mr. G. Bancroft Hall; and Mr. Thomas Atkinson, who spoke on model building.

On March 28, 1936, club members were guests of the Aeronautics Department of Massachusetts Institute of Technology at a lecture and an exhibit of models.

THE VARSITY CLUB

*President, ERNEST SAVIGNANO
Vice-President, PETER DONAVAN*

*Secretary, BOB WHELDON
Treasurer, ALAN SMITH*

Faculty Adviser, DONALD G. ENOCH

THIS year marks the inauguration of a new organization, the Varsity Club, under the able faculty guidance of Mr. Enoch. The first meeting, held on Thursday, March 12, was called to order by the adviser. Then Peter Donovan presided over the election of officers. An executive council of four, consisting of Bud Wittens, Johnny Quick, Bill Daniels, and Jack Herrick, was to supervise the actions of the club.

The purpose of this organization is to foster better school spirit, to establish a more worthy code of sportsmanship, and to bring about a better appreciation of athletics among the students of the School. The Varsity Club is open to all boys, who are eligible scholastically, who have earned a major or minor varsity letter in interscholastic sports while at Newton High School. All coaches and collegiate letter men among the faculty are admitted as honorary members.

The programs for the remainder of the year included several prominent speakers, foremost of whom was Al McCoy, head basketball coach at Northeastern University. Mr. McCoy showed the members some very entertaining movies on basketball and football as played by the leading colleges in America.

Although this is the first year such a club has been in existence, it already has eighty-five eligible members, and has gone far towards furthering higher ideals in sport circles at Newton High School.

FOOTBALL

Captain, ERNEST SAVIGNANO

Coach, RALPH SANBORN

Assistant Coach, CHARLES CONSIDINE

WITH the heaviest team in several years, Coach Sanborn's eleven won the Suburban League Championship. After the ten-game schedule was completed, Newton emerged with four wins, five losses, and one tie. However, the casualty list was considerably larger than average, Captain Savignano figuring in only half the contests, as the result of a leg injury received in the Everett game.

In the first contest of the season, Newton surprised a favored Arlington aggregation, 7-6, and the week following overpowered an inferior Cambridge team, 20-0. Next the Orange and Black journeyed to Lynn, and was turned back by a determined English outfit, 6-0. Newton then succumbed to an aggressive Everett machine, 14-6, while in the next game Brockton cracked open the Newton defense, winning, 14-0. By topping Quincy, 15-0, Newton broke its losing streak. At Cambridge, Rindge fell before the Newton onslaught, 15-7, in the second league encounter. In their initial meeting, Worcester Commerce edged Newton, 15-7 on Dickinson Field. An undefeated Waltham eleven overwhelmed the home team, 53-0. In the final game, at Brookline, Newton was held to a scoreless tie.

For the first time in Newton history, co-captains were elected. Brad and Al Thompson, following their brother's footsteps, were a unanimous choice. Since the veterans returning to the team will be few, Coach Sanborn will have to rely on the members of the Intermediate and Junior Varsity squads, where the varsity prospects are brought to light.

Coach, LUCIUS P. JONES

Manager, PAUL R. McGRATH

THE enlargement of the Suburban League to six teams through the addition of Waltham and Arlington, has created new interest in baseball at Newton this year. It has also made this organization the leading scholastic baseball circuit in the vicinity of Boston.

Although Newton, after a successful series of exhibition games, including victories over Northeastern and Boston University Freshmen, lost its first two league games, the team showed real hitting strength and much latent power by snapping the favored Arlington's winning streak in a 5-4 victory. The Newton cause looked hopeless, until the lucky seventh, when the Orange and Black scored all its runs. One error, hits by LeSourd, Marrazzo, Savignano, Callanan, and Gruber's winning three-bagger, accounted for the Newton margin. Although Castoldi was wild, issuing nine passes, he was airtight in the pinches, striking out fourteen men. The remaining games in the schedule included Waltham, Brookline, Cambridge, Arlington, Rindge, Waltham, and Brookline.

Ernest Savignano and Stanley Gruber have been the heavy hitters. Philip Greene seemed to be the most promising pitcher on the squad, while James Tornabene displayed his last year's reliability as the season progressed.

The roster of this year's varsity squad includes — Varsity letter-men: B. Marrazzo, Tornabene, Callanan, and Cormier; Intermediate players: McHugh, Herrick, Rechel, J. Marrazzo, Gruber, Milner, and Savignano; Junior Varsity A's: LeSourd and Newcomb; and sophomores: Martin, Castoldi, and Greene.

The coaches of the lower teams are Mr. Sanborn, Mr. Ferguson, and Mr. Wilson.

HOCKEY

Captain, ERNEST MACLEOD

Coach, OSCAR MARTIN

ALTHOUGH Doctor Martin's outfit was not a championship unit, it deserves much commendation for many creditable showings. This year a new Round Robin Series was instituted in which, near the close of the season, the top four ranking teams played each other, while the bottom four formed the consolation group. Newton finished in fourth place in the first division. Several of Doctor Martin's players were on the All-Scholastic Squad, namely: Captain Ernest MacLeod, William Daniels, and John Blodgett.

The Orange and Black displayed some fine teamwork when it overcame Medford, 4-2, in the opening tilt. The week following, Rindge succumbed, 6-4. At this point, Arlington, always a threat, came to the fore and chalked up three goals while Newton was able to tally only one. A flashy Melrose team duplicated Arlington's win in the first meeting, while, in a nip and tuck battle, the Garden City boys were finally tied in a third period rush, 1-1, in the second contest. The Newton pucksters were overcome 3-0 and 4-2 by the league champions, Stoneham, who lost only one game in ten starts. The second Arlington game was one of the main upsets of the season. In the last appearance for many of its players, Newton fought a bitter battle and was triumphant, netting three goals to its opponent's two.

Because of the loss of many seniors, next year's team will be drawn largely from members of this year's Intermediate Squad.

BASKETBALL

Captain, ALAN SMITH

Coach, FRANK SIMMONS

COACH Simmons's 1936 squad made one of the best records of any Newton five since basketball was re-established some eight or nine years ago. Under the spirited guidance of Captain Alan Smith, the team won eleven out of thirteen contests. It finished second in the Suburban League with four victories, two losses, and ran up a string of nine consecutive victories.

In the opening encounter, Newton barely made a 17-16 victory at Watertown. With neither team displaying much speed or power, the Orange and Black defeated Winchester, 33-30. At Westboro Newton won 35-21. The team outplayed the Cantabs, 27-17 in the first Suburban League game. Newton then triumphed over Melrose, 26-13, and swamped Milton Academy, 35-13. Although the 31-21 score does not indicate it, Newton was forced to the limit to overpower Rindge. Practically duplicating the previous win, Newton again out-scored Melrose, 28-10 in the next game. In whipping Brookline 36-6, Newton found little opposition. Then Rindge snapped the winning streak, 17-12. In a hard fought game, Newton defeated Watertown, 25-19. Cambridge walked away with the next game, 32-12. Regaining its stride, Newton closed the season with a 32-14 win over Brookline.

Next year's team, led by Captain-elect Leonard LeSourd, should also have a successful season, as this year's second team, composed largely of sophomores, won eight out of twelve games.

INDOOR TRACK

Co-Captains, WARREN WITTENS, RAY HULING

Coach, DONALD ENOCH

Assistant Coaches, CHARLES CONSIDINE, LAMOINE BOYLE

THE 1936 Indoor Track team was the most successful in the history of Newton High, winning every dual meet with the exception of a tie at Lowell, in addition to the Relay Carnival and the Northeastern, Andover, and State meets.

Newton's potential strength was shown in its victories over Everett and Brockton, but Coach Enoch's runners were tied at Lowell. Our ancient rival Brookline was beaten 45-32, in the last dual meet of the season. With Captain Warren Wittens establishing a new record of 34 seconds in the 300-yard dash, the Garden City team upheld predictions by taking the Northeastern Interscholastic meet with 20 points. In the Eastern Seaboard Relay Carnival, Wittens made perhaps the fastest time ever recorded by a high school team in New England: 2 minutes, 14.8 seconds. The Newton outfit at this meet was composed of Huling, Muther, Dusossoit, and Wittens. Newton, with  $20\frac{1}{2}$  points, won its third major meet at the Andover Interscholastics, with Wittens again setting a new record of  $33\frac{3}{5}$  seconds in the 300-yard dash. The Orange and Black walked away with the State Championship by scoring  $28\frac{1}{2}$  points, more than twice as many as its closest rival. For the third time, Wittens broke the 300 record with the time of 33.4 seconds. Huling, Heard, and Forté also contributed first places to the huge total in the broad jump, shot put, and 50-yard dash, respectively.

From the several outstanding members who will return next year, Robert Muther was elected captain for 1937.

OUTDOOR TRACK

Captain, WARREN WITTENS

Coach, MR. ENOCH

THE outdoor track team opened the season with a victory at the Worcester Interscholastics by the overwhelming score of 39 points, while Everett, the nearest rival, could score but 14 points. Individual winners were Warren Wittens in the hurdles, Paul Forte in the 100, and Jerry Allen in the 220; while the point total was increased by Huling, Muther, Hines, Dusossoit, Heard, Ross, and Regan. Other valuable members of the team were Steinsieck, Messier, Corthell, Covington, Madfis, Grant, Estes, Mergendahl, Davis, and Jack Allen.

The meet with Brookline, the Harvard Interscholastics, the State Meet, the Amherst Interscholastics, and the State Relay Carnival remain on the schedule; and the team, which is wonderfully well-balanced, stands an excellent chance of sweeping each of these meets, just as the indoor team did the unprecedented and won all four major titles.

Success can be attributed to many factors, one being the excellent performances of the seniors, Heard, Huling, Dusossoit, Steinsieck, and Wittens, the latter being selected on the 1935 All American Interscholastic team. While the seniors were doing their bit for Newton High, they were ably assisted by the finest crop of juniors and sophomores the school has ever known.

The coaches, Mr. Enoch, Mr. Boyle, and Mr. Consodine, are to be congratulated for giving Newton High what is unquestionably her greatest track team, if not the greatest ever in the State.

TENNIS

Captain, BREWSTER WILLIAMS

Coach, WALTER M. TAYLOR

Manager, ANDREW WALES

BY decisively winning its first two matches, Coach Taylor's varsity tennis team opened its season against Milton Academy and Huntington auspiciously. Newton won the former match for the first time in eight years. Both in order that more seniors might play on the squad and for the betterment of team competition, more stress was placed on doubles play this year than in the past. Combinations were picked which worked together consistently throughout the season.

Since 1928, Newton had not triumphed over Milton Academy. However, the tables were completely turned this season, as the Orange and Black netmen, captained by Brew Williams, shut out their opponents 9 to 0. In the second match with Huntington School, another impressive victory was won, 8 matches to 1. Paul Rich, Tom Slattery, Brew Williams, and Bill Squier were the seniors responsible for giving Newton a top berth in the ninth annual Interscholastic Tournament.

This year the second team was fortunate to have its own coach, Mr. John S. Dunk. The team's schedule was made up of ten matches, five of which were with varsity teams from other high schools. In its first test against Milton Academy's second team, Newton came out on the long end of the score, five matches to three. Duplicating its win, the second team proved too superior for the varsity netmen from Watertown and held the upper hand by a score of five matches to four.

The bumper list was in the following order: Paul Rich, Tom Slattery, Clayton Mosher, Captain Brew Williams, Don Manchester, and Bill Squier.

Captain, ROY MERCHANT, JR.

Coach, THOMAS G. WALTERS

OPENING another season under Coach Walters's guidance, Newton's golf team turned back the favored Waltham contingent by an overwhelming score of  $8\frac{1}{2}$  to  $\frac{1}{2}$  points. Newton again won at Woodland, this time 6 to 3 from a formidable Watertown sextet.

Tied with Arlington for first place, Newton lost to the latter at Commonwealth in a nip and tuck battle, 5 to 4. Roy Merchant and Gordon Wentworth teamed up in number one and two positions respectively against Arlington's two crack golfers, Burke and Chipman. The first six holes were halved in regulation par figures, then Wentworth dropped a nice par four on the seventh for the only hole won by either side, that first nine, Merchant halving the eighth and ninth with two fours. The next four holes were halved in par by Merchant and Chipman. Then the Arlington players turned on the heat, winning two holes with a par and a birdie. Wentworth halved the sixteenth with a par three; and the duel was clinched when Chipman sank a birdie to end the match. The scores were Merchant 75, Wentworth 80, Burke 76, while Chipman scored a 75. Newton won one point and lost two. In the second foursome Larry Bove and John Cronin teamed up to win one and lose two points. Bove shot two beautiful 37's for the lowest score of 74. Abe Posner and Martin Melanson combined to win one and lost two points in number five and six positions.

This year's team has shown a vast improvement over last year's group.

SKI TEAM

Captain, ROY MERCHANT

Coach, DANIEL P. A. WILLARD

Manager, FRED SOULE

BECAUSE of the increasing interest in skiing, the Athletic Council authorized the formation of a ski team. As it was organized rather late in the season, there was time for only one dual meet, with Melrose at Brae Burn.

The president of the senior class, Roy Merchant, was elected captain, and Fred Soule appointed manager. The other members of the team were Albert McAuslan, Donald Nordbeck, Lawrence Woods, and John Gustafson.

Captain Merchant won two out of the three events in the ski meet which dedicated the Mount Hood Park Jump at Melrose. He also won with two successive jumps of 57 feet and 60 feet from competitors of twelve other Massachusetts high schools. Manager Soule took second place with leaps of 45 feet and 51 feet. These jumps had to be finished "standing up" in order to count. The special trophy donated by the Mayor of Melrose for general proficiency was awarded to Roy Merchant, in recognition of the splendid form and general skiing ability which he showed throughout the entire meet.

In the first dual meet at Brae Burn, Newton bowed to Melrose 9-10. Fred Soule took second in the jump, and Albert McAuslan, third. Donald Nordbeck took first in the cross country run, in which twenty-five boys were entered.

It is the intention of the club to develop skiing talent in the school.

GIRLS' FIELD HOCKEY

Captain, MARY DOYLE

Coach, ADELE LOYSEN

Manager, CYNTHIA STEITZ

AFTER four weeks of intensive drill on technique, under the leadership of Miss Loysen, our new instructor, twenty-five of the one hundred and sixty girls that came out for hockey were chosen for the varsity squad. The remaining girls formed class teams. The winner of the interclass tournament was a sophomore team, captained by Betty Cunningham, that nosed out the seniors 2-0 in a very close and prolonged match.

The opening varsity game brought defeat by Needham, 4-1. We also lost to Watertown in a very exciting game, 1-0, but with more experience in playing, we defeated our old rivals, Brookline, with the decisive score of 4-1; Waltham, 1-0; and the Alumnae 1-0. The second varsity lost to Needham, 2-1; to Watertown, 1-0; and to Brookline, 1-0. It defeated Waltham, 3-0, and tied with the Alumnae, 1-1.

After the Waltham game, the Girls' Outing Club entertained the hockey teams and officials at a very delightful tea.

Again, this year, our varsity team attended the play day supervised by The Boston Field Hockey Association on our own field.

At the annual Girls' Assembly, varsity letters were awarded to Elena Ciccone, Barbara Carrick, Frances Creamer, Locardia Hartwich, Lorraine Jones, Margaret Lopaz, Nancy MacNeil, Elizabeth May, Cynthia Steitz, and Betty Stephen. Chevrons were given to Polly Brown and Mary Doyle for second year membership on this team. Twelve girls were awarded small "N's" for representing the second varsity.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

Captain, MARY DOYLE

Coach, ADELE LOYSEN

Manager, BETTY STEPHEN

THE basketball season opened in December with approximately one hundred and twenty-five girls reporting for practice. After spending the first month on drill, team "C," captained by Betty Stephen, won the January intra-mural tournament.

Under a new system, first, second, and third teams were chosen from each class. Lorraine Stickney, Mildred Hanlon, and Elizabeth May were elected captains of the sophomore, junior, and senior combinations respectively.

The opening interscholastic game was played at Needham, and resulted in the victory of the Newton seniors 12-10. The juniors won 20-13, while our sophomore outfit lost 11-9. The second contest was played with Cambridge Latin at Newton. The Newton seniors lost 26-19, but the juniors and the sophomores won by 35-24 and 25-9. The games with Brookline brought victory to Newton with the score 46-5 for the seniors, 37-4 for the juniors, and 27-3 for the sophomores. In the final game against the strong Watertown teams the Newton seniors were trounced 45-8, while the juniors won 19-15, and the sophomores were victorious by the score 27-23. After this game the Outing Club entertained the basketball players and officials at a tea.

Nineteen girls from the class teams were chosen to comprise the honorary varsity squad. With Mary Doyle as its captain, the varsity defeated the faculty 16-14, and the Alumnae 17-16. At the Annual Girls' Gym Meet, varsity letters were awarded to Elizabeth Campbell, Mildred Hanlon, Locardia Hartwich, Nancy MacNeil, and Betty Stephen. A chevron was awarded to Captain Mary Doyle for her second year of service on the varsity team.

GIRLS' TENNIS

Captain, ELENA CICCONE

Coach, MAIDA FLANDERS

TENNIS is one of the most popular sports for girls. This fall tournaments were conducted among the sophomores, juniors, and seniors. Elena Ciccone was victorious by defeating Barbara Hansen, 6-3, 6-2.

In the early spring, indoor practices were conducted. This year a bumper tournament will again be held, providing opportunity for a player to work her way to the top by challenging and defeating the already seeded players. Although the final varsity team has not yet been chosen, the members of the tennis squad have been picked. They are Elena Ciccone, Barbara Hansen, Margaret Carter, Geraldine Wisbach, Valia Ciccone, Helen Spence, Jeanette Kent, Bronia Aukstolis, Betty Manness, Beatrice Olen, Virginia Wilder, Gertrude Spiers, Betty Day, Betty Stephen, and Betty Tobey. From this working squad, seven players will be chosen to comprise the varsity team.

The following matches have been scheduled: May 21, with Medford at Newton; May 25, with Winchester at Newton; May 28, with Brookline at Brookline; and June 2, with Watertown at Watertown.

BY promoting many intra-mural sports, Newton High School offers a splendid opportunity to girls interested in athletics. These are of great importance, since they develop health, good sportsmanship, and skill.

Archery is open to all in the fall and spring. A tournament to show individual accomplishment is held at the end of each season. Soccer is another intra-mural sport that is offered in the fall. Teams are formed and play an interclass tournament. During the winter the most popular minor sport is ping-pong, a game of strategy. The winner of this year's tournament was Betty Manness. Volley-ball again had a large crowd of enthusiasts. This game is good fun and requires excellent teamwork. We are fortunate at Newton High in having badminton for girls. Its popularity is rapidly increasing; and the game is of more significance than some of the other sports as it may be enjoyed in later life.

Again we may be proud of our athletics, for lacrosse, which is a comparatively new sport in this country, is coached by Miss Lucille Burnham, a member of the United States Lacrosse Team, which toured England last summer. Every year the enthusiasm for track increases and the girls become more proficient. At the end of the season a track meet is held. Baseball also attracts a large number each spring. Every person who comes out for baseball is placed on a team, which plays in an interclass tournament.

With such a varied athletic program the Physical Education Department upholds its motto, "A sport for every girl, and a girl for every sport."

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT OF THE CLASS OF 1936

WE, the notorious class of 1936, realizing that we are on the way to the wide open spaces, fearing that we shall soon be infirm in mind and spirit, mindful of our faults and temptations, and filled with a lot of facts and hokum, do hereby continue the custom of the past by expatiating our last will and testament. To the faculty we leave classes extending into infinity and equally as industrious (ahem) as the class of 1936. Terms following with a few hi lee, hi lows thrown in for good measure, otherwise to wit., etc., abs., re., adfin., T.X.Q. & P.D.Q.

To the school we leave:

The long-to-be-remembered indoor track victories.
Our first five million.
Not much grass.
Billy Ewing
The radiator knocks plus the ever inaccurate clocks.

To The Newtonite we bequeath:

Another Harvey.
Billy Abrahams' feature page with Nancy Flagg.

To those who need it:

Benny Fogwill's success (?).
"Buddy" Mergendahl's stooging ability.
"Ace" Wittens personality with the Greater Boston Bulls.
Johnny Quick's interpretive dancing.
Sally Roe's taxi cab.
Jane Perry's friendliness — Whee!!
Jimmy Newcomb's passion for hot music.

To the class of 1937:

George Jamison's histrionic ability.
Ginny Casey's complexion.
Bill Morison's new Chevrolet when it comes.
Norma Skelton's voice.
Lou Dair.
Clara Schwab's teeth.
Maggie Clark's fussiness.
Doc Martin's sun lamp — "bake it."
Savignano's "hunch club."
Jerry DiNapoli's pipe.
Faye Smillie's effervescence.

We bequeath also these ads:

SLEEPING STUDENT PROBLEM SOLVED!

Sun (A) shines on cat (B) who jumps to floor and spying mouse (C) dashes after it — upsetting the canary bird cage (D), causing the door (E) to fly open and let the bird out.

Canary (F) flits about and alights on a book (G) causing it to fall off the bureau and land on the stone (H). The weight is sufficient to pull on cord (I) which upsets pitcher of ice water (J) spilling it on student (K) waking him for school.

MISS STONE

MR. STEINHOPE

MR. CUTTING

MISS WETHERBEE

CHARLTON

For teachers, there must always be,
When one is writing verse,
A certain lucid dignity,
And patterns not averse.

For pupils, verse must always be
Sharp and frank and terse,
But most of all it must be free,
Or else it bears a curse.

So on this page you now can see
Of teachers quite a few,
And though the verse is far from free,
We rather think it's true.

The learning of our history
Would often be quite fuzzy,
Unless to solve the mystery,
We could consult our Muzzey.

To leave us in this subject deft,
And often make us bright,
Are Mr. Kidger on the left,
And Holmes, whose on the right.

Bon jour, m'sieur, bon jour, mam'selle,
Et comment allez-vous?
To help us Frenchify so well,
We go to Miss Giroux.

And Mr. Cutting next we see,
The well known English teacher,
He knows his alphabet to Z,
And's quite the man to feature.

When troubles seem too hard to bear
Room three-one-four is nice,
Because Miss Riley's always there
And giving kind advice.

And now to close this patterned jest,
Miss Richardson we bring;
Perhaps you'll like the next page best,
Of pupils there we sing.

When Seniors are the subject for your song
You must follow out a pattern
That has never been before.
For Seniors are something the like of which has never
Been seen before,
And verse as bad as this has never
Been seen before. So now we're even.
Anyway, ten silhouettes you see,
Of Seniors from the class of thirty-six,
And though it would be perfect
To have thirty-six adorn the page,
There really isn't room, so on with the show. Boom!
Jason Brown never went to town, honest to gosh, the story
Is phony. (Something tells us this verse is phony) But —
You get the idea. In this silhouette he looks restrained;
So does everybody on the page; so does Louette Glaser,

Who won the Prize speaking, and whose vitality is almost Unbounded. Then comes Bill Daniels. His motto must be
"Go places and do things." Wherever anything big
Is happening, that's where he is.
And Helen McKey is pretty, pert, and prominent.
Next, the sentimental gentleman from Georgia (we've got a feeling We're using too many song titles.) Anyway it's James Whitehead, and that Southern accent!
Another lad from way down South is Marvin Perry,
Who was so romantic in the Senior Play and then lost
The gal.
Follows the singing lady of Newton High, Rosetta Warren.

And here, as dignified as dawn, Fred Fairfield
Now we see. We might wax poetic, but we won't,
Although it wouldn't hurt Fred in the least
If we did. Nor would it harm
Charming Nancy Waddell who's next in line.
Last, Eleanor Bixby, who deserves a medal or something
For service or something.
But since there should be thirty-six, pretend
That You are one of the other twenty-six,
And write a song as bad (no not as bad)
As this.

COLUMNISTIC CALUMNIES - 1950

THE time is 1950. But it seems quite the same as 1936. Nothing has changed. People still go to the movies. People still go to baseball games. People still go to the beach. People still read books. AND people still read gossip columns. However, there is one change in the life of the people of 1950; for now the purveyor to the populace, the panderer to the public, is none other than Natalie Grow. And even more unusual is the information that her column is being featured in the ultra sedate Boston Sun, owned by Tomb & Harvey Inc., well known publishers. There is nothing very different about "Grow Groans," when compared with the typical 1936 chatter, except that the headlines of yesteryear have vanished, and a new group is in the limelight. Therefore we print a few excerpts from the June 6, 1950, edition, so that a cross section of life in that period may be presented.

We were much surprised to hear that Johnson Quick had opened a bureau to receive complaints from mistreated athletes. He promises to see that they are brought up before the A. A. A. or die in the attempt. . . . Quite a throng is expected for that reunion of the Hi and Tri-Hi-Y. Among those who plan to attend are Mr. and Mrs. MacQuarrie (Barbara Hansen); Mr. and Mrs. Diman (Lisbeth Schafer); Mr. and Mrs. Wise (Harriet Conel); Mr. and Mrs. Daniels (Faye Smillie); Mr. and Mrs. Callanan (Kay Hillman). . . . The premiere of William Abrahams's latest play, "No, No, Maybe, Yes," was quite the social affair. Such important people as Joe Caruso, swing band leader; Thomas Scott, prominent marine engineer; Cornelia Brown, aesthetic dancer; and Frederic Fairfield, newspaper correspondent extraordinary, were in the audience. The cast was equally glittering and included Marvin Perry, Maybeth Gibson, Claire Holman, and George Kenngott. Special honors go to Fred Begole, who played the part of the Cricket (which gives you an idea of the play) with great realism. . . . We were in at "Ma" Kelsey's Washington Lunch with them the other evening and discovered that it has become very popular with such Newton High School teachers as Catherine Stone, Nellie Frederick, Kay Herene, and Alvina Deagle. . . . By the way, did you notice that Barbara Leger took first prize at Atlantic City as America's loveliest bathing beauty? . . . We have just discovered that Ellison Van Husen, the famous critic of everything everywhere, is none other than James Whitehead. Will wonders never cease? . . . And speaking of critics, we really thought that "Love on an Iceberg," that gorgeous technicolor film starring Virginia Casey and Norman Whitney, was very entertaining, despite the unfavorable reviews it received. . . . Louette Glaser, poet of international repute, leaves for Europe shortly; she will, according to rumors we've heard, remain there for a three-year lecture tour. . . . Did you know that John Herrick will become a professional boxer? It seems so many were confused, that the least he could do was oblige. . . . Flash. We are glad to report that Eleanor Ainslie has finally said yes to David Collins. However, Miss Ainslie definitely will continue to write her unusual poetry, despite all reports to the contrary. . . . We hear that Polly Brown, Betty Stephen, and Cynthia Steitz are representing the Eastern Division of the United States in the international field hockey tournament. . . . George Jamison, sophisticated stage star, is writing that unusual series on clothes in Gordon Wentworth's Style Leader. . . . Speaking of fashion, did you notice that announcement in Vogue, about the opening of the Sally Roe Sport Shop? Jane Perry, Barbara Cheney, and Jane Rabbitt will model the smart outfits, designed by Virginia Cooper. . . . Sport experts are agreed that Elena Ciccone will have no difficulty in retaining her Wimbledon tennis title this summer. . . . That radio program, "The Fun Hour," sponsored by Barbara Moses's Beauty Preparations, certainly lives up to its name. Janet Hickey's comedy, Rosetta Warren's singing, and Betty Tobey's dramatic monologues make it outstanding. . . . The wisdom of Ernest Savignano, Burton Woodward, and Gerard DiNapoli, high officials in the Boston Sport Club, in sending Warren Wittens and Nat Heard to the Olympics was shown today when both scored overwhelming triumphs. . . . We think that Einstein's theory is child's play compared to the discovery of a fifth dimension by Tom Slattery and Paul Keating. . . . Admont Clark's new novel, "Wonder," does contain a character who resembles Harvey Cibel, famous sportsman to a marked degree. Incidentally, those illustrations are by Jean Youngs. . . . Flash. The Boston Board of Censors (Benjamin Fogwill, Jason Brown, Norman McCutcheon) today banned the showing of the sensational Broadway revue, "Scanlon's Scandals." More sensational, however, is the news that the board required twenty-five private showings before coming to a decision.

MODERN MYTHOLOGY

ULYSSES had been walking a chalk-line for three thousand years, but lately his royalty checks for the sale of the Odyssey had been very gratifying; and, to add to his exuberance, the Warner Brothers had paid him $50,000 — which makes quite a fist-full of Greek drachmas — for the movie rights of his story, to be released under the title “Homer, Sweet Homer,” or “He’s Just a Yocal from the Styx.”

The consequence was that Ulysses had built himself a huge new mansion in the swank Elysian-Fields section of Hades, had been giving wild parties which lasted into all generations of the next millennium, had been seen at the exclusive Erebus Athens Casino with a different nymph every night, and to cap the climax had announced his intention of going into Politics.

So it came about that Pluto, who was plenty sore anyway because Ulysses had refused to give him a cut of his last royalty check, decided that the time had come to send this one-time hero off on a quest, which is something that you’re lucky to get out of alive, like the Building 1 entrance to the tunnel on a rainy day.

Thus it happened that Ulysses found himself standing beside Pluto at the rail of the super-liner, the Queen Proserpina, sailing at midnight to cross the Styx. Ulysses had already reserved a table for one in the dining room, and a deck chair which would have gotten the sun in the morning had there been any; and he had two new cartons of Camels, a magic sword, and the latest issue of Esquire. In short, he was all primed for his dangerous mission, and Pluto had come down to the pier to see him off.

“Oh hear ye, noble Ulysses, ya dope,” warned the God of the Underworld, as he turned from having his picture taken for the rotogravure section of the Sunday Mercury. “Remember, thou must bring back the genuine Ice-Berg from the underground cavern of the distant Newton High School. Fearful creatures are said to fight day and night to possess it, and a mad goddess guards it with her life. For the glory that was Greece — for dear old Delta Gamma Phi — get in there and fight! What a hero you turned out to be, letting Robert Taylor put it all over you. Re-establish your reputation! And keep away from Toyland on Saturday nights. Farewell, in the name of Pluto the Great — and Zeus be with you!”

As the liner cast off on its trip across the Styx, the ship’s orchestra struck up that ancient Grecian chant, “The Music Goes Round and Round.” (We’ve been telling you all along that the place was Hades.)

At first Ulysses had been peeved no end at the idea of being shipped off on a quest just as he was getting somewhere socially, but as a matter of fact he was running a bit low on cash, having bet his last toga on Cerberus, who had lost by three noses at the dog-races on Saturday night. Then, too, he hadn’t had any honest-to-Zeus adventures for practically three thousand years, and he was getting more restless every century. So here he was — setting out on the quest of the Ice-Berg! It was no end exhilarating.

At nearly one o’clock on the afternoon of a day three months later, Ulysses stood at the entrance to the famous underground cavern of Newton High School. (Don’t get the idea that it takes all of sixty days to travel to Newton from Hades — but after thirty centuries of darkness, Ulysses had decided to run down to Miami for a couple of months to look into the matter of the moon over it.) At last, however, he stood on the threshold of his great adventure!

The entire cavern was crowded with weird, frantic, howling creatures — male beings in odd pink shirts, checked trousers, and orange suspenders — females who hobbled on stilts, although the floor seemed perfectly dry, and whose hideous twisting tresses were strongly reminiscent of Medusa, that notorious vampire of the snake’s hair. Over a bottle of Coca-Cola, Perseus, Ulysses’s old crony, had once confided that the only way he had been able to slay the mythical dame was with the aid of a mirror. Ulysses, scrutinizing a group of maidens at a nearby table, decided that they were preparing to slay each other. They were getting out little mirrors and were attempting to disguise themselves with red paint and white flour so as not to be recognized by their victims.

However, Ulysses’s great quest was not to observe these strange creatures, but to procure the Ice-Berg. Noticing a vast mob of angry beings clustered around a counter, he instantly deduced that this was the shrine of his goal. Rising on his winged sandals above the scuffling group, he glanced down and saw the object for which they fought. Yes, as he had been told — it was a small, dark object wrapped in oil paper.

Calling on Zeus for aid, Ulysses swooped down into the midst of the fray, brandishing his magic sword. Fighting as he had never fought at Troy, throwing all caution to the four winds (all of which were friends of his) he detached the Ice-Berg from three dozen pairs of wildly clutching hands, incidentally detaching the hands also. With a cry of victory he sped away, bearing the cherished treasure aloft, and pursued by the infuriated shrieks of an angry female who presided over a large metal box which Our Hero mistook for a slot-machine. He was wrong. Nobody made anything on it.

Clutching the prize to his breast, Ulysses returned joyously to the relatively fresh air of Hades.

“Yes — I got the Ice-Berg, but never again!” he told the reporters who came down to meet the Queen Proserpina. “It’s just too, too marvelous to be back in Hades.”

One Hundred Seventy-two

It has been a real pleasure to contribute our share toward the success of this Year Book.

We sincerely hope that we may be privileged to serve the Class of 1936 for many years to come.
